Patent Cooperation Treaty Update Accession by Greece

The United States Patent and Trademark Office has received notification from the World Intellectual Property Organization that Greece deposited its instrument of accession to the Patent Cooperation Treaty (PCT) on 09 July 1990. Therefore, according to PCT article 63(2), Greece may be designated in international applications filed on and after 09 October 1990.

The instrument of accession contains a declaration that Greece will not be bound by Chapter II (concerning international preliminary examination) of the PCT. This means that Greece may not be elected for international preliminary examination; however, if Greece is designated in the international application for a European patent together with at least one other State party to the European Patent Convention which is bound by Chapter II of the PCT, the 30-month time limit for entry into the regional phase before the European Patent Office under PCT Article 39(1) applies also with respect to Greece, if the other State has been elected prior to 19 months from the priority date.

Interferences—Preliminary Motions for Judgment

When a party files a preliminary motion for judgment [37 CFR § 1.633(a)] against an opponent in an interference on the ground that the claim(s) corresponding to a count are unpatentable over prior art, and, based upon the effective filing date(s) of the application(s)/patent(s) involved in the interference, the prior art would also be applicable to the moving party, the following will apply:

1. The mere filing of the motion will not be construed as an admission by the moving party [See Commissioner's Notice of May 23, 1990, 1115 Off. Gaz. Pat. Office 31 (June 19, 1990), discussing Winkler v. Guglielmino, Appeal No. 89-1571 (Fed. Cir. May 9, 1990) (unpublished)].

2. The Examiner-in-Chief (EIC) will determine (i) whether the date(s) of the cited prior art are such that it would on its face appear to apply to the moving party, and (ii) if so, whether the motion includes an explanation as to why the prior art would not be applicable to the movant. If the motion does not contain an explanation, the EIC will send a letter to the moving party. The letter must: (a) inform the movant that the prior art appears to be applicable against the movant; (b) set a time period to provide an explanation as to why the prior art does not apply to the movant; (c) state that unless a sufficient explanation (and evidence, if appropriate, e.g., Rule 132 affidavit) is filled within the time set, the movant will not be permitted to rely on any such explanation (and evidence) in response to or in any subsequent action in the interference.

3. If the movant provides no explanation, or an insufficient explanation, as to why the cited prior art would not apply to the movant, the EIC will determine whether or not the prior art cited in support of the motion renders the count (claims corresponding to the count) unpatentabe to the moving party as well as each of the other parties. If the EIC concludes that the claims are unpatentable, the EIC will issue an Order to Show Cause under 37 CFR § 1.640 against all parties to whom the prior art is applicable without regard to the dates alleged in the preliminary statements.[1] Note that if the moving party expressly admits that the prior art renders his corresponding claims unpatentable, the EIC must still determine whether the corresponding claims of the other parties are unpatentable over that art.

4. In response to the Order to Show Cause, the parties have the options set forth in the Commissioner's Notice of December 8, 1986, 1074 Off. Gaz. Pat. Office 4 (January 6, 1987), and/or may move under 37 CFR § 1.651(c)(4) for a testimony period, if appropiate. However, the following should be noted:

A. If the party who filed the motion for judgment is under the Order to Show Cause, the party's showing and/or request for testimony in response to the Order may not be based upon any reasons which could have been, but were not, given in explanation of why the cited prior art would not apply to the party.

B. If the prior art is not a statutory bar to a party and the allegations in that party's preliminary statement, if proven, would antedate the effective date(s) of the prior art, an appropriate response to the Order to Show Cause would be a request to take testimony to antedate the prior art, as well as to prove priority of invention. If applicable, this option may be specified in the Order to Show Cause.

C. A request for a testimony period to remove the prior art based upon other reasons, e.g., inoperativeness of a reference, unexpected results, etc., must meet the criteria set forth in Hanagan v. Kimura, Interference No. 102,150 ___USPQ2d___ (Comm'r. Pat. Apr. 5, 1990) (LEXIS, Patcop library, Omni file).

D. Even assuming corroboration, the evidence necessary to antedate a reference is not necessarily the same as that required to prove priority of invention. Cf. Anderson v. Norman, 185 USPQ 371 (Comm'r Pat. 1968). Therfore, depending on the circumstances, a request to take priority testimony may not be adequate to cover taking testimony to antedate the reference, and vice versa.

Reference Collection of U.S. Patents Available for Public Use in Patent Depository Libraries

The following libraries, designated as Patent Depository Libraries (PDLs), receive current issues of U.S. Patents and maintain collections of earlier-issued patents. The scope of these collections varies from library to library, ranging from patents of only recent years to all or most of the patents issued since 1790.

These patent collections, which are organized in patent number sequence, are available for use by the public free of charge. Each of the PDLs, in addition, offers supplemental reference publications of the U.S. Patent Classification System, including the Manual of Classification, Index to the U.S. Patent Classification, Classification Definitions, and provides technical staff assistance in their use to aid the public, in gaining effctive access to information contained in patents. CASSIS (Classification And Search Support Information System); which provides direct, on-line access to Patent and Trademark Office data, is available at all PDLs. Facilities for making paper copies of patents from either microfilm or paper collections are generally provided for a fee.

Since there are variations in the scope of patent collections among the PDLs and in their hours of service to the public, anyone contemplating use of the patents at a particular library is urged to contact that library, in advance, about its collection and hours in order to avert possible inconvenience.

SECTION 2.—INTERNATIONAL CLASSIFICATION

The short titles associated below with the international class numbers are terms designed merely for quick identification and are not an official part of the international classification. The full names of international classes are given in section 6.1 of the trademark rules of practice.

The designation "U.S. Cl." appearing in this section refers to the U.S. class in effect prior to Sep. 1, 1973 rather than the international class which applies to applications filed on or after that date. For adoption of international classification see notice in the OFFICIAL GAZETTE of Jun. 26, 1973 (911 O.G. TM 210).

SECTION 1.—INTERNATIONAL CLASSIFICATION

The short titles associated below with the international class numbers are terms designed merely for quick identification and are not an official part of the international classification. The full names of international classes are given in section 6.1 of the trademark rules of practice.

The designation "U.S. Cl." appearing in this section refers to the U.S. class in effect prior to Sep. 1, 1973 rather than the international class which applies to applications filed on or after that date. For adoption of international classification see notice in the OFFICIAL GAZETTE of Jun. 26, 1973 (911 O.G. TM 210).

Reference Collection of U.S. Patents Available for Public Use in Patent Depository Libraries

The following libraries, designated as Patent Depository Libraries (PDLs), receive current issues of U.S. Patents and maintain collections of earlier-issued patents. The scope of these collections varies from library to libary, ranging from patents of only recent years to all or most of the patents issued since 1790.

These patent collections, which are organized in patent number sequence, are available for use by the public free of charge. Each of the PDLs, in addition, offers supplemental reference publications of the U.S. Patent Classification System, including the Manual of Classification, Index to the U.S. Patent Classification, Classification Definitions, and provides technical staff assistance in their use to aid the public, in gaining effctive access to information contained in patents. CASSIS (Classification And Search Support Information System); which provides direct, on-line access to Patent and Trademark Office data, is available at all PDLs. Facilities for making paper copies of patents from either microfilm or paper collections are generally provided for a fee.

Since there are variations in the scope of patent collections among the PDLs and in their hours of service to the public, anyone contemplating use of the patents at a particular library is urged to contact that library, in advance, about its collection and hours in order to avert possible inconvenience.

SECTION 1.—INTERNATIONAL CLASSIFICATION

The short titles associated below with the international class numbers are terms designed merely for quick identification and are not an official part of the international classification. The full names of international classes are given in section 6.1 of the trademark rules of practice.

The designation "U.S. Cl." appearing in this section refers to the U.S. class in effect prior to Sep. 1, 1973 rather than the international class which applies to applications filed on or after that date. For adoption of international classification see notice in the OFFICIAL GAZETTE of Jun. 26, 1973 (911 O.G. TM 210).

SECTION 2.—INTERNATIONAL CLASSIFICATION

The short titles associated below with the international class numbers are terms designed merely for quick identification and are not an official part of the international classification. The full names of international classes are given in section 6.1 of the trademark rules of practice.

The designation "U.S. Cl." appearing in this section refers to the U.S. class in effect prior to Sep. 1, 1973 rather than the international class which applies to applications filed on or after that date. For adoption of international classification see notice in the OFFICIAL GAZETTE of Jun. 26, 1973 (911 O.G. TM 210).

SECTION 1.—INTERNATIONAL CLASSIFICATION

The short titles associated below with the international class numbers are terms designed merely for quick identification and are not an official part of the international classification. The full names of international classes are given in section 6.1 of the trademark rules of practice.

The designation "U.S. Cl." appearing in this section refers to the U.S. class in effect prior to Sep. 1, 1973 rather than the international class which applies to applications filed on or after that date. For adoption of international classification see notice in the OFFICIAL GAZETTE of Jun. 26, 1973 (911 O.G. TM 210).
